"Marcus and Joni, thank you both so very much for the live cam in Israel. I have never been to Israel but I love to watch the live feed. You all are definitely in God's Favor. I pray that someday I can experience The Holy Land – to walk where Jesus walked must be awesome. God bless you. I love Jesus and thank him for Daystar!"

THE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS

WITH PASTOR JACK GRAHAM

Christmas season is always a big deal at Prestonwood. Tell us about some of the events you have going on this holiday season.

We have 12 performances of our annual Christmas production, The Gift of Christmas beginning December 5. People come from all over the region, including Oklahoma and Louisiana, and it is truly an annual tradition for many families. Some 70,000 people are expected to attend this year.

Christmas Eve is one of my favorite services of the year. This year more than 30,000 are expected at eight candlelight services at our Plano and North campuses, including one in Spanish in Plano. I never tire of seeing one small candle leading the entire Worship Center to become awash in light. It's a beautiful picture of our Savior's light shining through His people.

What does it take to put on such a large-scale, Broadway style production like "The Gift of Christmas?"

It takes a great deal of time and commitment from our staff and the hundreds of volunteers who make this happen. And, most importantly, it's their passion for sharing the Gospel with those who would otherwise never walk through the doors of a church. The planning for the following year's production begins very early, pretty much right after the last production ends. There's so much that goes into the musical production itself, but also the technical aspects, including sound, lighting, rigging. And, of course, we have to prepare for the camels and the flying angels!

We're excited to air Prestonwood's Christmas Eve service this Christmas season! What is one thing viewers can look forward to with this?

I encourage every believer to attend a worship service in his or her local church. However, I would invite you, if you can't attend such a service or if you just can't get enough of the joy we experience when we celebrate the birth of our Lord, tune into Daystar and worship Him with us.

What personally inspires you to put on such major productions each year given the time and money it costs?

We've had a Christmas production for about 30 years, and though each year it becomes more and more elaborate, and more technologically advanced and interactive, the most important thing hasn't changed—we continue to share the life-changing message of the Gospel through the story of the birth of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. All the planning, all the long hours, it is all worthwhile, whether two people or 200 people make professions of faith.

What is your favorite testimony that has come out of these productions?

A decade ago, a member invited a woman to our service. Earlier that day, that woman had filed for divorce from her husband. She had no faith whatsoever. She was broken. She had never attended church, but her desire to be with a friend and be entertained by a Christmas production brought her to us. That evening, at the end of the show, she accepted Christ as her Savior. She reconciled with her husband that same week. And to this day, she is a faithful member of our Church who loves the Lord and her family.

Your program "Powerpoint with Jack Graham" airs each Sunday at 8 a.m. ET on Daystar, and you've been involved in television and radio ministry for 20 years! Why do you think it's important to make use of such mass media platforms to reach outside the four walls of the church?

Television, radio, and the Internet allow us to proclaim the Gospel to people where they are. Some people cannot get to a church. Some people don't have a growing, Bible-believing church near where they live. Some people thirst to hear the Word in their car, in their home, or in their office throughout the day. Daystar helps us to meet the needs of these people. Daystar helps us proclaim the Gospel to this world.

our little lioness

I'm so excited to share the wonderful news with you all – Arielle Isabella Lamb has arrived! She was born on Monday, November 2nd, weighing 6 lbs. and 2 oz. Dad, Mom, Israel and baby sister are doing well. Thank you so much for all of your prayers!

While we were in Israel last month, we discovered something really neat – not only does Arielle mean lioness of God, but is also, according to Isaiah 29:9, another name for Jerusalem. So, now we have two grandchildren named after the Holy Land!

I also wanted to share some of Arielle's birth photos with you. Marcus and I are excited about our new granddaughter and look forward to the days ahead with our kids and grandkids.

ISRAEL TOUR 2015

Israel. Enchanting and mysterious. 2015 marks Daystar's 4th group tour to the Holy Land, and it was full of unforgettable memories.

From the moment the plane touches down on the tarmac, you can sense something different in the atmosphere, a familiar feeling of home.

First we trekked north, following the footsteps of Jesus along the Sea of Galilee. Venturing out onto its legendary waters, we stopped by the Mount of Beatitudes, imagining what it was like to hear Jesus preach His sermon on the mount.

In Jerusalem, we're greeted by the sight of hundreds of Jews fervently praying at the Western Wall and left our own prayers written on folded paper and stuffed between its stones.

Next, we began perhaps the most moving steps of our journey. In the Upper Room, we worshipped with songs, and Marcus and Rebecca Lamb delivered deep reflections on our hallowed surroundings.

Finally, we climbed down the steps to the Garden Tomb. Here we took communion, remembering the purpose behind our journey. It was inscribed on the wall just outside the empty tomb, "He Is Risen."

Though our group had come from many destinations, we felt a deeper connection in that moment – that we were all on the same road heading home to that place Jesus went to prepare for us.
